

Neighbors

SUNDAY,
APRIL 8,
2007

DAVIE HINSHAW - dhinshaw@charlotteobserver.com

Local flavor, over easy

Picture your breakfast haven.

The eggs are always perfect and the people – the politicians and average Joes, the celebrities and servers – are great company. The owner knows your back story and how you take those eggs.

Local breakfast lovers made memories at Andersons and The Athens before both closed last year. But there are still places in town to get a bowl of buttery grits that cost the same as it did three years ago.

Your favorite waitress calls you “honey” and lets you seat yourself. And she remembers when you were just a kid, though you have children of your own.

So where do you get your eggs? See if your breakfast haven is on the list. — LINDSAY POLLARD

CENTENARIAN

Kathleen Fitzpatrick's swimming buddies throw her a 100th birthday party at the Mecklenburg Aquatic Center 4M

LAW AND ORDER

Take a look at the raw numbers of crimes as well as the percentage change for a full picture of crime in your neighborhood 2M

HELLO, NEIGHBOR

Neighborhood leaders took to heart what they heard at the recent Neighborhood Symposium 13M

The Charlotte Observer

www.charlotte.com

SECTION M